Treasury Chief Reluctantly Says Tax Reform OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said today the House tax reform bill gives too much to some taxpayers and takes too much from corporations, but he nevertheless hailed it as a milestone.

"The administration urges its enactment at the earliest practicable date," Kennedy said in testimony prepared for the first session of Senate Finance Committee hearings on the bill.

The bill "should be improved in a number of respects," Kennedy added, but he did not recommend changing the House re-

Atom Blast Is Delayed By Weather

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Unfavorable weather conditions have caused at least a 24-hour delay in Project Rulison, a 40-kiloton underground nuclear blast in western Colorado.

Project officials made the decision Wednesday night after a weather briefing. Forecasts were for bad weather again on Friday and possibly Saturday.

Each day's delay will cost Austral Oil Co. of Houston, Tex., one of the sponsors of the blast, an estimated $31,000.

"The predictions are clearly outside the criteria we have established for ourselves," said Bob Tahigott, test manager.

Weathermen said there was a strong chance of thundershowers over the test site, near the town of Grand Valley, about the time of the scheduled detonation—5 p.m. EDT Thursday. Indications were, the forecasters said, that there would be thundershowers in the area about the same time on Friday.

Weather conditions halted the explosion 8,500 feet under the earth's crust after extensive legal maneuvers failed to do so.

Justice Thurgood Marshall of the U.S. Supreme Court refused Wednesday to overturn lower court decisions that all necessary precautions had been taken and the explosion could proceed.

Air Force Cuts Strength By 50,000

Economy Move Follows Nixon Budget Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force will announce soon a cutback of about 50,000 officers and men.

This will bring the overall reduction of U.S. armed forces past the 150,000 mark as the services comply with orders to economize.

Details as to how the cutback will be applied throughout the Air Force still have not been buttoned down, sources said.

The Air Force's cost-saving drive may lead to fewer squadrons and further base closings.

The Pentagon already has disclosed plans to slash the Army by 34,000 men and the Navy by 72,000 men and 76 ships. Additional retirements of Navy vessels are expected.

Nothing has been said yet about Marine Corps troop cuts. Pentagon officials said these probably will be relatively light.

With obvious reluctance, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced on Aug. 21 that the armed services will have to absorb an additional $3 billion spending slash this fiscal year.

Blaming the Democratic-controlled Congress, Laird warned that "there will be an inevitable weakening of our worldwide military posture."

Although the Nixon administration has looked ahead to armed force reductions as the U.S. commitment in Vietnam is scaled down, it had not planned on moving this far this fast.

The expected Air Force manpower reduction, together with the Army and Navy cutbacks, will bring the total of U.S. armed forces close to 3.3 million men, about the level of late 1966 but still about 600,000 above the 2.7 million in uniform when the Vietnam war buildup developed in the summer of 1965.

According to sources, the current thinking involves a reduction of 41,000 Air Force enlisted men and about 6,000 officers.

The slimming down will be accomplished, not by mass releases of men but by taking in fewer replacements for men whose hitches expire.

Normally, the Air Force absorbs about 125,000 recruits a year.

The officer cut will be accomplished in part by early release of some due to retire or resign later in the year, and by tuning out some officers who were kept on only because of the Vietnam war.

Hope Fades For Missing Bishop Pike

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli army abandoned its search for Dr. James Pike tonight.

It made the decision after a fruitless, daylong search by troops, policemen and airplanes of the Judean desert for the former Episcopal bishop of California. Officials held little hope that he was still alive.

Pike, 56, has been missing since Monday night, after his rented car got stuck about eight miles west of the Dead Sea. His 31-year-old wife left him on a hillside and walked all night until she reached a road workers' camp.

Mrs. Pike told police she and her husband were doing research on a book and decided to drive through the desert for a

Reds Mourn Ho Death; Power Struggle Seen

Ho's Death To Have Asian Impact

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

In the long run, Ho Chi Minh's departure from the stage can have a decided impact on events in Vietnam and Southeast Asia.

Ho's passing can prove a strong blow to North Vietnamese and Liberation Front morale. Particularly in his later years, Ho was not the stereotyped figure of a Communist strong-man ruler, but rather a symbol, a father figure, a personality who cannot be replaced.

It was in the name of "Uncle

Ho" that appeals went from Hanoi to the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong, exhorting them to pursue protracted war to the finish, even if it should take 20 years. It was in Ho's name that slogans were fashioned for the unification of Vietnam. It was Ho whose name a dozen years ago was considered so powerful that it, alone, was believed capable of swinging a popular vote in any election. That may have changed under Communist rule in the North, but the name remained potent medicine among many in the South.

Thus it was the name of Ho, rather than the office of the presidency, which carried the authority with the Laodong (Communist) party in the North and with the guerrillas in the South. The question of a successor as president is thus of importance mostly in what it may reveal about the present power structure.

Ho frequently was believed to have been the arbiter of intra-party disputes and the last word in settlement of such disputes among members of what appeared from time to time to be a divided Politburo. His presence could have been sufficient to keep others from squabbling among themselves for power.

Until about five years ago there were strong signs of division in the Politburo along pro-Chinese and pro-Soviet lines. Much in the future depends upon the progress of Soviet-Chinese hostility.

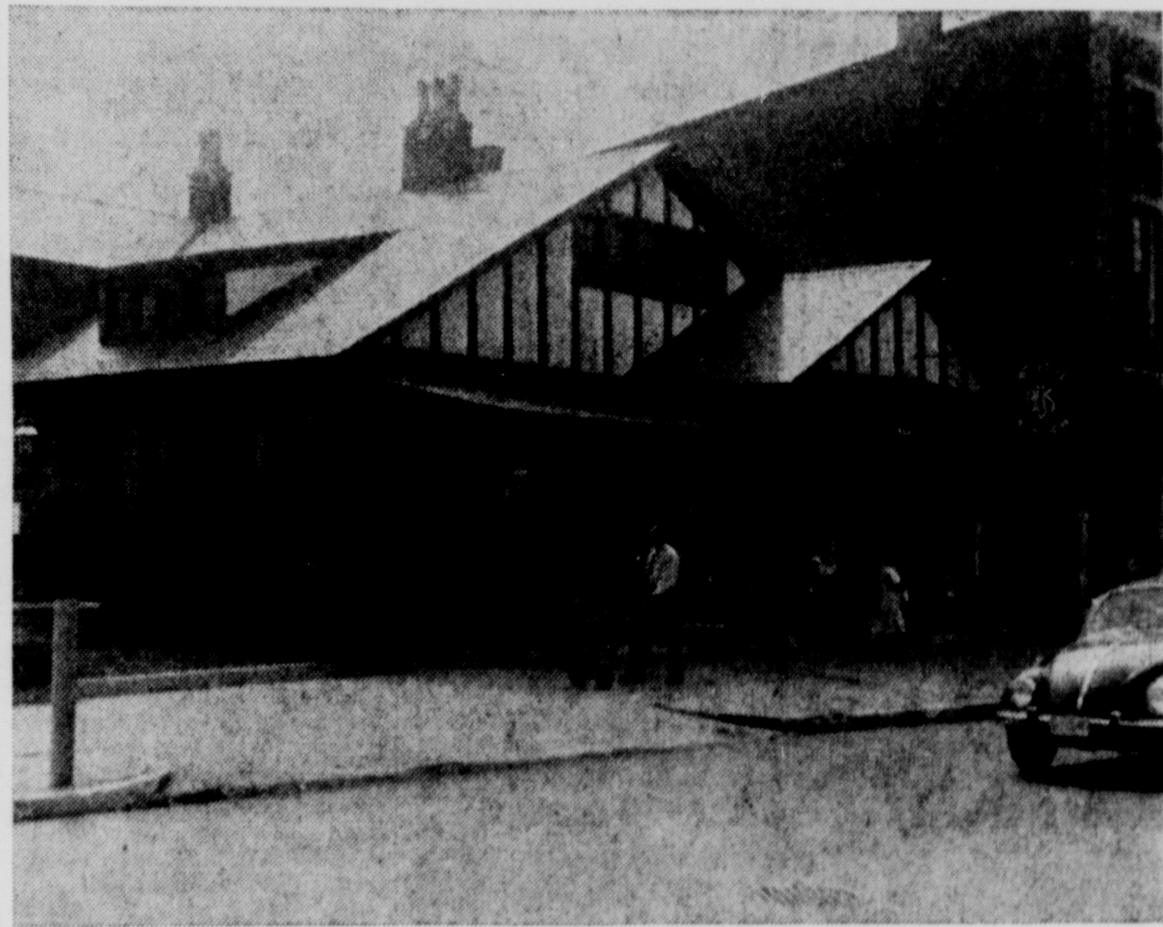

It is probable that North Vietnam's future rests in the hands of four top men—Le Duan, the party's first secretary; Truong Chinh, chairman of the National Assembly; Premier Pham Van Dong and Marshal Vo Nguyen Giap.

No Changes In War Policy Are Expected

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam began a week of mourning today for Ho Chi Minh and planned a state funeral for the father of Vietnamese independence.

The 79-year-old president of North Vietnam died Wednesday after "a grave and sudden heart attack," Radio Hanoi reported.

Columbia Gas Plans To Raze Old Traction Line Depot

BUILDING TO BE RAZED — Columbia Gas Co. announced today plans to raze the nearly 70-year-old building at 134 N. Court St., site of the gas company offices and Circleville Bus Station. A new building will be constructed, to be completed by early Spring, which will house gas company offices and service.

Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., announced today that plans have been completed to build a new office building and service center at the site of the present gas company office, 134 N. Court St.

Charles R. Baker, Circleville manager for the gas company said the present building will be razed early in November and construction on the new building will begin soon thereafter. J. Boyd Stout Co. will construct the new facility.

The occupied building which was constructed around the turn of the century, served as a station for the old Interurban Line which served Circleville.

When interurban travel was replaced, the portion of the building which now houses the gas company became headquarters for a bus depot.

The gas company has maintained its offices in the building since 1931. It serves more than 7,000 customers in Circleville, Amanda, Ashville, South Bloomfield, Stoutsville, Mt. Sterling and surrounding areas. Thirteen gas company employees are based in Circleville.

BAKER said the project is part of an overall gas company plan to modernize and improve its facilities in the company's 61-county operating area and to provide greater efficiency and better service to its customers.

The new building, which is expected to be completed by early Spring, will be of brick and masonry construction and of early American design. It will be heated and cooled by natural gas.

The new structure will contain 3,000 square feet of floor space, including office space, warehouse and storage space and areas for display and demonstrations.

During construction, the gas company will move its office to 129 N. Court St., directly across the street from its

Group Given Armstrong Suggestions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Historical Society says it is being swamped with exhibit suggestions and objects for the Neil A. Armstrong Museum at Wapakoneta.

The moon astronaut will be the guest of honor at a huge homecoming celebration Saturday in Wapakoneta, where the museum will be constructed.

"Never in the recent history of the society has a museum public interest and response," said Director Daniel B. Porter.

He noted that several Ohio artists are at work voluntarily painting likenesses of Armstrong in space attire and at least two such portraits have been completed and offered to the museum. Cincinnati sculptor Mike Makras has executed a bust of the astronaut for the museum.

Porter said Ohio space industries, several having been contractors for the Apollo program, have indicated they will present items for museum display.

The Data Corporation of Dayton is negotiating with the society to make color prints of lunar photographs taken by Armstrong available for the museum and for distribution to visitors.

Dirksen Rests; Had Cancer

Say No Spread Of Tumor Noted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen was said to be resting well after the removal of a cancerous lung tumor, but his aides could not estimate when he would be able to return to his GOP leadership duties.

Dirksen staff members said they had been told the senator would remain in Walter Reed Army Hospital for up to six weeks.

Meanwhile, Republican Senate Whip Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania was filling in for 73-year-old senior senator from Illinois.

Doctors said the tumor—four-fifths of an inch in diameter—cut from the right upper lobe of Dirksen's right lung was malignant but had not spread. Also, they said, there was no sign further surgery or treatment would be necessary.

Dirksen's son-in-law, Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said Wednesday he visited the senator, and found him "bright cheerful and alert . . . I was most encouraged."

A breathing apparatus—later removed—allowed Dirksen only to nod as Baker talked with him.

Dirksen, long a heavy cigarette smoker, has had a lengthy history of serious illness.

He left politics temporarily in 1948 after 16 years in the House because of rapidly failing eyesight. But he was elected to the Senate two years later.

Dirksen has emphysema, a progressive condition which causes the lungs to lose their elasticity and which may impair the action of the heart.

He broke his hip three years ago, returning to the Senate on crutches.

Hurricane Breaks Up

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricane Francella smashed into the hills of Guatemala today and began breaking up after inflicting heavy damage to property and crops in a sweep across southern British Honduras.

The National Hurricane Center in Miami forecast rainfall up to 29 inches. High tides threatened to inundate coastal villages along the triangle formed by the Gulf of Honduras.

Francella went ashore Wednesday just north of Punta Gorda, one of several fishing communities that dot the coastal areas, with winds estimated at 110 miles an hour.

A spokesman for Radio Belize said reports received by his station and the British Honduras government indicated heavy damage to personal property all along the coast.

More than 4,000 persons were evacuated as Francella swept toward landfall.

Toledo Resident Killed In Crash

ERIE, Mich. (AP)—A 27-year-old Toledo, Ohio, man was killed Wednesday night when the car in which he was a passenger struck a tree on U.S. 24 near Erie in Monroe County.

Killed was Douglas Lemke, an employee at the Ford Motor Co. Woodhaven stamping plant. The driver of the car was injured slightly.

HO CHI MINH

The announcement said Ho died at 9:47 a.m. Hanoi time, which was 9:47 p.m. Tuesday EDT. But word of his death was withheld for nearly 21 hours, until about 6:40 p.m. EDT Wednesday. In the interim Hanoi Radio prepared the North Vietnamese people for word of the death with periodic reports that his condition was getting worse.

"Everyone tried their utmost and gave of their best to save him at any price," Hanoi Radio said, "but because of his advanced age and serious illness of the sudden severe heart attack, President Ho has left us forever."

The broadcast said "the most solemn ceremonial state funeral of our nation" would be organized but it did not say when the rites would be held.

The North Vietnamese delegation in Paris asked for a postponement of today's weekly session of the peace talks but said it would be ready to resume the talks next Thursday.

There was no indication whether North Vietnam and the Viet Cong would call a cease-fire during the mourning period.

In San Clemente, Calif., a spokesman said President Nixon would make no comment on Ho's death. U.S. military and diplomatic authorities in Saigon also did not comment.

Informed sources in Saigon said it was unlikely the North Vietnamese leader's death would result in any important changes in Hanoi's war policy.

South Vietnamese and American officials in Saigon expect a triumvirate leadership to emerge in the next few months, made up of Le Duan, the pro-Moscow first secretary of the North Vietnamese Communist party; Truong Chinh, the pro-Peking chairman of the National Assembly, and Premier Pham Van Duong.

Treasury Chief Reluctantly Says Tax Reform OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said today the House tax reform bill gives too much to some taxpayers and takes too much from corporations, but he nevertheless hailed it as a milestone.

"The administration urges its enactment at the earliest practicable date," Kennedy said in testimony prepared for the first session of Senate Finance Committee hearings on the bill.

The bill "should be improved in a number of respects," Kennedy added, but he did not recommend changing the House reduction of the controversial oil depletion allowance.

The Treasury proposal, spelled out in an 81-page statement prepared by Assistant Secretary Edwin S. Cohen, would after 1971 trim the House reductions for individuals by $2.5 billion a year and slice the tax increases for corporations by $1.4 billion.

Overall, the proposal would bring in $1.07 billion a year more than the tax bill approved overwhelmingly by the House on Aug. 7. The House bill would cost $2.4 billion a year by 1972, a figure Kennedy said he wanted to cut to $1.3 billion.

Both proposals, however, would cut individual taxes for all but the highest income brackets below what they are now and raise net corporation taxes, although the administration would like to lower the corporate rate 2 per cent over two years.

Treasury approved of the income tax rate reduction for individuals, but asked that the standard deduction be raised only to 12 per cent, with a ceiling of $1,400, instead of 15 per cent with a $2,000 ceiling, as the House voted. It is now 10 per cent, with a maximum of $1,000.

The new deduction still would allow four million taxpayers to switch from itemizing their deductions to the standard deduction, Kennedy said. This combined with the new rates and the low income allowance would reduce taxes for 63 million taxpayers and remove six million people from the tax rolls entirely, he said.

Treasury's deduction plan would cost an estimated $770 million a year compared to $1.34 billion for the House bill.

Kennedy emphasized cutting the cost of the bill, a subject of great concern to the inflation-conscious administration. This year and next—the period the government thinks is critical in curbing rising prices—the Treasury's bill would bring in considerably more than it gives back in tax breaks.

Only in 1972 would it begin to cause a loss. By then the government hopes inflation will be under control.

Campus Curbs For California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Two bills designed to curb campus turmoil were signed into law Wednesday by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The new laws provide criminal penalties for persons who are ordered to leave campuses and return without permission. They also revoke state financial aid for students taking part in campus disorders.

The Republican governor, who originally called for even firmer penalties against campus disruption, said: "The people of this state ... will no longer tolerate public assistance to students who reciprocate by destroying the very institutions this assistance enables them to attend. We will not pay for our own destruction."

Although the man was unable to get the personal letters he desired, Mrs. Maxine Dowler, librarian, assured us that he would receive some material to help his research. And a huge phone bill.

Circleville Fire Chief Urges Heating Equipment Check

An immediate check of home heating equipment for safe operation during the coming winter months was urged today by Circleville Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe.

He reminds area residents that an inspection of heating equipment should be made by a competent plumber or heating contractor while there is ample time to make any repairs or adjustments before cold weather arrives.

Appliances to check include furnaces, water heaters, incinerators and room heaters. Particular points to examine are proper venting, gas burner adjustment, room ventilation, tight connections and proper operation of safety shutoff devices.

3. Be sure the chimney is clean. Blow smoke into the cleanout opening to make sure it is drawing.
4. Be sure the vent pipe goes up, not down, from the heater to the chimney.
5. Use a safety thimble to keep the pipe from going too far into the chimney. Seal around the pipe with cement or plaster where it enters the chimney.
6. Don't use a cooking range for room heating.
7. Have a qualified person install any heating equipment or make necessary adjustments.

Hargus-Hominy Watershed Hearing Held

A field review and public hearing on the proposed Hominy-Hargus Watershed was held Wednesday.

Well over 100 persons attended the hearing in the 4-H and Grange Building.

The reviewing board was considering the watershed district's application for assistance under PL 566.

Property owners who live along Hargus Creek in Circleville suffered extensive damage during the flood of May 1968.

Attending the hearing were officials from the Soil Conservation Service, the Agricultural Extension Service, the Army Corps of Engineers, the state department of natural resources, city, county and township.

Persons attending the meeting were informed there would be a definite time delay between approval of the application and the funding of an engineering survey and actual construction.

Property owners attending the hearing asked if there were any avenues they could pursue for immediate relief from potential floods. State officials were of the opinion that the creek could be cleaned through the county ditch laws, but that process would require the cooperation of all persons involved and the total cost would be assessed to property owners along the creek.

Prior to the hearing, members of the reviewing team had toured the Hargus-Hominy Watershed Area.

Court Denies Referendum In Alley Suit

An injunction was granted Thursday by Common Pleas Judge William Ammer which prohibits the Board of Elections from placing a referendum on the November ballot concerning the closing of Riggie Alley.

The civil suit came as the result of an ordinance passed July 2, 1968 by City Council which vacated Riggie Alley at the rear of the Circleville Publishing Co.

Sheldon Winner, Beatrice Winner and Forrest Easterday Sr., in opposition to the legislation circulated referendum petitions seeking to place the issue before city voters.

The lawsuit was filed by Richard L. Davis, 346 Meadow Lane, claiming the committee did not have sufficient valid signatures for a referendum.

IN ruling in favor of the plaintiff, represented by George Young and Robert H. Huffer, the court pointed out that the petitions filed with the Board of Elections contained 442 signatures of which 234 were not valid.

The committee needed 319 valid signatures for proper filing of the referendum petitions. Evidence showed that 80 of the signatures were not valid due to various registration and petition requirements in addition to one petition containing 174 signatures which were invalid because they were not signed in the presence of the circulator.

Judge Ammer, citing a similar case, pointed out that signatures must be signed in the presence of the person whose name appears on the affidavit accompanying the petition. In this case, Beatrice Winner's name appeared as the circulator of the petition containing 174 names while one of the petition was circulated by a 16-year-old girl.

An injunction suit filed earlier by Winner against City Council was dismissed by the court.

Own Auditors Wrong About Viet Oil Loss, Military Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon denies charges—based on a report by its own auditors—that a 1967 collapse of its system to account for U.S. fuels in Vietnam cost the government $21 million.

Defense Department spokesmen said there is no evidence any petroleum had been stolen.

The denial was in response to a demand from Sen. William Proxmire D-Wis., for disciplinary action against those found responsible for what the military auditors called a complete breakdown in the accounting system.

Proxmire rejected the Defense Department's reply. "The wide open and notorious black market in stolen American goods in Vietnam gives the Pentagon explanation of the $21 million loss a very hollow ring indeed," he said.

The Wisconsin senator said he and Sen. Joseph M. Monroney, D-N.M., have asked the General Accounting Office to conduct an investigation of the Defense Department's system to procure, distribute and account for oil products in South Vietnam.

The Pentagon's auditing report, issued in January 1968, but never released to the public, made this statement:

"In view of the gross inadequacies in the preparation, distribution and control of documentation for the receipt, storage and distribution of bulk FOL (petroleum) fuels and lubricants, the team concluded that there had been a complete breakdown in the accounting system."

Also detailed were dozens of situations in which the auditors said it was not possible to tell if petroleum products ever got to fighting units needing them.

The petroleum auditors said that in one case, "because of incomplete terminal reporting... the Air Force stock fund suffered a loss of $21 million."

It said this occurred because recipients were not reported and therefore could not be billed. "This situation remains unchanged in fiscal 1968," it said.

Barry J. Shillito, assistant secretary of defense for logistics, told Proxmire in a letter that the shortage of $21 million in petroleum was only a paper loss.

Marked Change Seen In Role Of Government In Farming

The role of government in the affairs of agriculture is entering a period of marked change that has been unequalled in the past half-century, in the view of Carroll G. Brunthaver, Associate Administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

He sees this change being shaped by forces outside agriculture, and having vital importance for farmers and farm policy.

Chairman George Stump of the Pickaway County ASC Committee said that in an address made recently in Minneapolis, Minn., Brunthaver noted that 1919 marked the start of an earlier period of notable change in government-farmer relations. This came as farming's war-stimulated prosperity faded, and was replaced by depressions of the 1920's and 30's.

These difficult times led farmers and farm organizations to propose and support a number of programs designed to aid a stricken agriculture.

THE programs were the predecessors of today's farm programs and led to a growing role for government in agriculture.

Brunthaver sees a 1969-style change in the attitude of people and political leaders toward farming that is no less important than the changes 50 years ago. "In this year of 1969, we are crossing another major divide in farm program thinking," Brunthaver said. "But this time, the change in thinking does not originate with the farm organizations or farmers themselves; to a considerable extent it is being dictated by forces and problems outside of agriculture."

Brunthaver recounted the frustrations that appear upmost in the minds of people, and consequently add up to a list of high priority concerns for the Government. They include: Viet Nam, inflation, urbanization and the problems of the city; poverty surrounded by affluence; hunger surrounded by plenty; the degradation of environment; the perplexities of youth; and the bafflement of parents.

These problems require government attention and government money at a point in history when the Congress has become to a high degree urban oriented.

"As Congress considers new farm legislation to be in effect beyond 1970," Brunthaver said, "you can be sure that program costs will be a major consideration. There is less and less support on Capitol Hill of the 'open ended' program financing that permits costs to run far above planning." He explained that a largely urban-dominated Congress now controls the legislative future of agriculture with only about one of every nine Congressional seats representing districts made up of at least 20 per cent farm people.

"No longer is it possible to consider the needs of farmers apart from the needs of urban America," he said. "No longer is it possible to consider farm policies as being apart from the other concerns, the other priorities, that concern America in the political sphere."

BRUNTHAVER expected the Administration's farm program recommendations will include a long-range resource adjustment program involving voluntary land retirement, combined with efforts to help rural people in preparing for new opportunities both on and off the farm.

"While this is likely to be a less costly approach than total reliance on annual programs," Brunthaver explained, "it does not imply abandonment of annual programs. Changes will be proposed, however, to make the annual programs more effective and equitable."

Own Auditors Wrong About Viet Oil Loss, Military Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon denies charges—based on a report by its own auditors—that a 1967 collapse of its system to account for U.S. fuels in Vietnam cost the government $21 million.

Defense Department spokesmen said there is no evidence any petroleum had been stolen. The denial was in response to a demand from Sen. William Proxmire D-Wis., for disciplinary action against those found responsible for what the military auditors called a complete breakdown in the accounting system.

Proxmire rejected the Defense Department's reply. "The wide open and notorious black market in stolen American goods in Vietnam gives the Pentagon explanation of the $21 million loss a very hollow ring indeed," he said.

The Wisconsin senator said he and Sen. Joseph M. Monroney, D-N.M., have asked the General Accounting Office to conduct an investigation of the Defense Department's system to procure, distribute and account for oil products in South Vietnam.

The Pentagon's auditing report, issued in January 1968, but never released to the public, made this statement:

"In view of the gross inadequacies in the preparation, distribution and control of documentation for the receipt, storage and distribution of bulk POL (petroleum) fuels and lubricants, the team concluded that there had been a complete breakdown in the accounting system."

Also detailed were dozens of situations in which the auditors said it was not possible to tell if petroleum products ever got to fighting units needing them.

The petroleum auditors said that in one case, "because of incomplete terminal reporting... the Air Force stock fund suffered a loss of $21 million."

It said this occurred because recipients were not reported and therefore could not be billed. "This situation remains unchanged in fiscal 1968," it said.

Barry J. Shillito, assistant secretary of defense for logistics, told Proxmire in a letter that the shortage of $21 million in petroleum was only a paper loss.

Marked Change Seen In Role Of Government In Farming

The role of government in the affairs of agriculture is entering a period of marked change that has been unequalled in the past half-century, in the view of Carroll G. Brunthaver, Associate Administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

He sees this change being shaped by forces outside agriculture, and having vital importance for farmers and farm policy.

Chairman George Stump of the Pickaway County ASC Committee said that in an address made recently in Minneapolis, Minn., Brunthaver noted that 1919 marked the start of an earlier period of notable change in government-farmer relations. This came as farming's war-stimulated prosperity faded, and was replaced by depressions of the 1920's and 30's.

These difficult times led farmers and farm organizations to propose and support a number of programs designed to aid a stricken agriculture.

THE programs were the predecessors of today's farm programs and led to a growing role for government in agriculture.

Brunthaver sees a 1969-style change in the attitude of people and political leaders toward farming that is no less important than the changes 50 years ago. "In this year of 1969, we are crossing another major divide in farm program thinking," Brunthaver said.

"But this time, the change in thinking does not originate with the farm organizations or farmers themselves; to a considerable extent it is being dictated by forces and problems outside of agriculture."

Brunthaver recounted the frustrations that appear in the minds of people, and consequently add up to a list of high priority concerns for the Government. They include: Viet Nam, inflation, urbanization and the problems of the city; poverty surrounded by affluence; hunger surrounded by plenty; the degradation of environment; the perplexities of youth; and the bafflement of parents.

These problems require government attention and Government money at a point in history when the Congress has become to a high degree urban oriented.

"As Congress considers new farm legislation to be in effect beyond 1970," Brunthaver said, "you can be sure that program costs will be a major consideration. There is less and less support on Capitol Hill of

Carroll Woman Bound To Jury

Two charges of breaking and entering and grand larceny were heard against a Carroll, Ohio woman in Circleville Municipal Court today.

Zella Mae White pleaded guilty to the charges and was bound over to the grand jury under $2,500 bond on each count.

Vance Kelly Crites, 50, Stoutsville, was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants. He was fined $150 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail, and had his license suspended for six months.

$397 in fines and forfeitures were received by the court today.

tary strategist, may be a fourth member.

A likely interim president is Ton Duc Thang, the 81-year-old vice president of the party. According to North Vietnam's constitution, he is to succeed the president if he dies or becomes incapacitated.

Undoubtedly there is a power struggle in the offing. It will depend, many say, on how the party's 43-man central committee is swayed. Outsiders have only the vaguest idea of the workings of this group.

North Vietnam has been beset by floods, and this will probably be the worst crop year in a decade or more. Both agriculture and the small industrial base are painfully short of manpower, a situation aggravated terribly by the continuing war.

Hanoi newspapers have openly deplored flagging morale and productivity.

It is evident that the war could not be maintained in the face of these troubles without the continued support of Peking and Moscow. In the past, Ho was masterful in fending off the two Communist giants and holding to a middle way.

Some think that the rivalries within the party are being wishfully magnified. These observers point out that the Vietnamese Communist party is the only political party that has ever operated effectively in Vietnam for any length of time on a major scale.

Others point to the volatile nature of the Vietnamese and say that regardless of the party's strength, the men at its head will fight until one comes out on top.

Ohio Narcotics Subject Of Talk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ten per cent of Ohio youths who are using marijuana and other drugs will become confirmed addicts, the state's chief narcotics investigator said here today.

Robert D. Cook, who is setting up a drug probe for Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown, told the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police the problem would continue to grow with the population.

Cook also called for more community action programs aimed at preventing additional users from taking up the use of drugs.

Dollar Erosion

Treasury Secretary Kennedy's warning that unless the present pace of inflation is halted, the current dollar will depreciate 50 per cent in the next 11 years really wasn't needed. Everyone is aware of the inflationary spiral.

Despite continued insistence by some economists that they "see" an end in sight, or they "believe" the economy may cool off in the next few months, there is nothing in the more obvious indicators to point to the end of the most damaging inflationary cycle in decades.

The cost of living in the first half rose at an annual rate of 6½ per cent. Housewives in numerous cities are organizing boycotts and other remonstrances against the prices of beef. Some far out labor contracts are being signed in the vain hope inflation can be outdistanced.

The federal surtax and other indirect measures have merely kept inflation from accelerating at a more rapid pace. They have not measurably slowed it.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A MEMBER of an old and exclusive club in New York was his amazing accomplishments as, first a college athlete, and later, a colonel in World War II. "Every time that so-and-so opens his mouth," grumbled one exhausted fellow member, "he puts his feet in it."

Tidbits from the Overseas Press Club book, "Heroes For Our Times": A nosey brat once evaded flunkies and made his way into Winston Churchill's study and asked, "Are you the greatest man in the world?" "I certainly am," snapped Sir Winston. "Now buzz off!" . . . A not too reverent member of Mahatma Gandhi's retinue was overheard to sigh, "If only Gandhi realized how much it costs us to keep him in poverty!" . . . Eleanor Roosevelt, noting that her dress seemed to be coming apart at a state function, despaired, "There seems sometimes to be a hopeless discrepancy between me and my clothes!"

Incidentally, the Overseas Press Club book answers the unfortunate question of F.D.R.'s Chief of Staff, Admiral Leahy's, "Who the hell is Harry Truman?", by placing Truman tenth among its twelve selected "Heroes For Our Times."

A seedy character, loitering outside a movie house in the conservative town of Ocean Grove, New Jersey, buttonholed a passerby and whispered in his ear, "Past, mister: want to see some clean pictures?"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Lower back pain is a broad term that applies to mild, moderate and even serious conditions. Because of the location of the pain, I have known many patients who have swapped their symptoms, their drugs and their chiropractors with each other because "that is exactly what I have."

There are many reasons for such pain. A frequent cause is injury while lifting a heavy weight or by direct force during an automobile accident or a fall. Birth deformities and diseases which change the curvature of the spine are a most significant cause of pain in this area. Scoliosis is a curvature of the spine that has many differences in severity. Kyphosis is an exaggerated curvature of the spine which, too, is responsible for chronic low back pain.

Arthritis of the spine, lumbago, sacroiliac sprains and slipped discs are some of the more serious kinds of conditions of the spine. Lumbago is a dull, constant aching in the lower back muscles that is noted most with sudden turning of the body. When the muscles are suddenly twisted tiny blood vessels break in between the fibers and cause the muscles to go into spasm. Simple strappings, bed rest and local injection of anesthetics and ethyl chloride sprays over the muscle bring relief if only for a short while. None of these should be tried without explicit instructions of the doctor.

Sacroiliac sprains can cause severe lower back pain. A joint between the sacrum and the hip bone may be injured or may, during pregnancy, be expanded and cause persistent pain. Sciatica is an inflammation of the sciatic nerve that starts in the lower portion of the back and radiates down the back of the buttocks, the thigh and sometimes to the foot. This is an actual neuritis.

The problem of the slipped disc, which has become a modern day fashionable disease, may or may not exist in all who claim they have it. Between each of the vertebrae there is a flat disc of cartilage which acts as a cushion and prevents injury to the spine as we twist, turn and lift. Arms Control Talks

By SEN. HENRY M. JACKSON
For John Chamberlain

It is of very great importance that a way be found to limit and reduce strategic nuclear armaments. Yet there is no way to do this other than through mutual, reciprocal action by the Soviet Union and ourselves. For this reason, I have steadily urged that we and the Soviets get on with the long-projected talks on limitation of offensive and defensive nuclear arms. If there is a chance to have productive negotiations it would be a tragedy to miss it.

At the time of the Glassboro Conference in 1967, Mr. Kosygin was not prepared to respond to the initiative of President Johnson to start the discussions on strategic arms limitation. Subsequently after the Senate's vote in July, 1968 to go forward with our ABM program, the Kremlin indicated it was ready to sit down at the conference table. The announcement of agreement to talk was to have been made on the very day in August, 1968 that the Soviets invaded Czechoslovakia.

Now, a year later, entering these important arms control talks would not seem to condone the brutal assault on the Czechs. The Senate has just given President Nixon the backing he asked for to move ahead with Phase I of the Safeguard ABM. Many of us in the Senate who voted to uphold the President on the ABM issue did so not only to keep open the option to defend key elements of our deterrent forces in the mid-1970's, but also to put the President in the best position to conduct arms control negotiations.

It is high time that the talks started. If the Soviets are going to hold them indefinitely, we had better know it. The executive branch should put the issue squarely to Moscow again: we want to talk promptly; will you start the talks not later than this month? If not, why not? If not, when?

Of course, nothing in the history of arms limitation talks with the Soviets suggests that such parleys are easy. The Russian representatives debated for eight years in meetings of the United Nations with the object of defeating American proposals for international control of atomic energy — and they defeated them.

It took five years of nuclear test-ban talks to finally work out with the Soviets the limited nuclear test ban treaty, which I voted for. At best, negotiations for the control of arms are bound to be difficult, long-drawn-out, and involve the most rigorous bargaining by Moscow for relative advantage.

I think it likely that the Soviets will want to maintain some ABM defense to give them future protection from nuclear coercion and attack from Red China and other secondary nuclear powers. There may be a chance, however, that we can come to an agreement with the Soviet Union for a limited ABM defense on both sides — for example, an agreed ceiling on the number of ABM's for each side — now that the Senate has given the President the strong hand on the ABM he wanted for the negotiations.

In any event, we don't want negotiation with Moscow just for the sake of negotiation. We want a serious negotiation that advances the prospects for a more stable, decent world in which liberty can survive and flourish. When the negotiation is over, and agreements, if any, signed, we do not want the world to be in a more dangerous, less protected situation than before; we want to be in a more secure situation. Therefore, our preparation for these negotiations, including our stance as we enter them, is crucial.

Preparation for negotiation is always hard work: when properly done it involves formulation of sensible American negotiating proposals and positions, timely consultation with the Congress at home and with key allied governments abroad. It also requires the creation of conditions in which one has an acceptable alternative to agreement if the adversary filibusters the discussions or in any way slams the door on a meaningful outcome. Otherwise, with Soviet negotiators believing time is running on their side, American negotiations can be up against impossible adverse odds, and the security of this country and the future of other free and independent nations can be jeopardized.

Tingler Rights Not Violated, Judge Decides

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Accused slayer Richard Lee Tingler's rights were not violated when police confronted him with a key state witness, Common Pleas Judge Henry L. Holden ruled Wednesday.

Tingler, 28, is charged with the execution-style murder of two young dairy store employees during a holdup last Oct. 20. He also is accused of five other slayings, four in Cleveland and one in Illinois.

Defense attorneys contended that Columbus detectives violated Tingler's rights by having Phyllis Crow view Tingler in a room at police headquarters. Mrs. Crow survived an attempt on her life in the dairy store incident.

The court also ruled that Gertrude Ridout of New Boston, Ohio, mother of a child by Tingler, is not his legal common law wife and therefore not prohibited from testifying against him.

Libyan Leaders Pressure West

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Libya's new military government has asked commanders of the American and British military bases in the country to stop training exercises on Libyan soil, Egypt's middle East News Agency reported from Tripoli today.

The report said the commanders of the U.S. Air Force's big Wheelus base outside Tripoli and of the small British bases at Tobruk and El Adem agreed to comply.

The report strengthened belief in the Middle East that closure of the Western bases would be one of the first aims of the left-junta.

According To Boyle

By RON SPEER (For Hal Boyle)

CLAYTON, Ga. (AP)—Sidney Lanier wrote passionate poems about the beauty of the tumbling mountain streams of north Georgia.

Obviously the poet never spent a night at a Tallulah River campground with a wife, two kids and a cocker spaniel in a leaky tent on a rainy night.

My prose by morning was what the kids called "naughty." And the wife, ecstatic over the scenery when we pitched our tent at dusk on a bank of the river along with a dozen other campers, was ready to return to suburbia by dawn.

The beauty of the river, with its rapids of white water as it tumbles over rocks and twists and turns through the valley in a race to the sea, was forgotten.

Trouble started when father's errant cast of a trout lure caught the dog, Crackers.

"That's mean, Daddy. Why did you do that? Get her loose!" shouted the kids.

"Catch the dog," shouted Daddy, unable to reel in the whimpering animal. The fish ended with that episode. Daddy didn't regain any of his lost prestige when he tried to build a fire for supper, either.

The wood, wet from a previous rain, wouldn't start at first, and finally when a small blaze was going, the storm hit.

The fire went out. The kids, huddling under a canopy on the tent, were soaked when the ropes holding it up gave way. The wife fled for the safety and comfort of the car to fix sandwiches.

She got drenched bringing them to the tent, which by then was filling with water sweeping through the door.

Daddy dashed through the rain for a beer to ease his troubles, only to find that the last one had been quaffed earlier.

"Let's go to bed," said the wife. Then she tested the sleeping bags.

"Let's stay up, they're all wet," she said. But the kids climbed in. Then they heard the dog crying outside in the rain.

"Any dog that isn't smart enough to get out of the rain deserves to get wet," said Daddy. Nobody replied. Nobody said anything for a long time, with the silence broken only by the pattering rain and the whimpering cries of Crackers.

"All right," said Daddy, going out into the rain. He brought all the groceries and clothes out of the car so the dog wouldn't chew them up, and then put Crackers in the vehicle.

"Wasn't that nice of me to do all that for Crackers?" asked Daddy. Before he got a reply, the dog started barking in the car.

"She's lonely," said the kids. "She's afraid."

"Aaaaack," said Daddy. "Go to sleep."

The kids did. The big folks tried and tried and tried but wet sleeping bags weren't too conducive.

Finally, about 3 a.m., Daddy went to sleep.

At 4 a.m., he jumped out of his sleeping bag as a car horn blared in the darkness just outside the tent.

"Maybe it's a smart-aleck dog," said Daddy, dashing into the rainy darkness. Daddy was right.

Dollar Erosion

Treasury Secretary Kennedy's warning that unless the present pace of inflation is halted, the current dollar will depreciate 50 per cent in the next 11 years really wasn't needed. Everyone is aware of the inflationary spiral.

Despite continued insistence by some economists that they "see" an end in sight, or they "believe" the economy may cool off in the next few months, there is nothing in the more obvious indicators to point to the end of the most damaging inflationary cycle in decades.

The cost of living in the first half rose at an annual rate of 6½ per cent. Housewives in numerous cities are organizing boycotts and other remonstrances against the prices of beef. Some far out labor contracts are being signed in the vain hope inflation can be outdistanced.

The federal surtax and other indirect measures have merely kept inflation from accelerating at a more rapid pace. They have not measurably slowed it.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A MEMBER of an old and exclusive club in New York was a hopeless egomaniac who never stopped boasting of his amazing accomplishments as, first a college athlete, and later, a colonel in World War II. "Every time that so-and-so opens his mouth," grumbled one exhausted fellow member, "he puts his feet in it."

Tidbits from the Overseas Press Club book, "Heroes For Our Times": A nosey brat once evaded flunkies and made his way into Winston Churchill's study and asked, "Are you the greatest man in the world?" "I certainly am," snapped Sir Winston. "Now buzz off!" . . . A not too reverent member of Mahatma Gandhi's retinue was overheard to sigh, "If only Gandhi realized how much it costs us to keep him in poverty!" . . . Eleanor Roosevelt, noting that her dress seemed to be coming apart at a state function, despaired, "There seems sometimes to be a hopeless discrepancy between me and my clothes!"

Incidentally, the Overseas Press Club book answers the unfortunate question of F.D.R.'s Chief of Staff, Admiral Leahy's, "Who the hell is Harry Truman?" by placing Truman tenth among its twelve selected "Heroes For Our Times."

A seedy character, loitering outside a movie house in the conservative town of Ocean Grove, New Jersey, buttonholed a passer-by and whispered in his ear, "Past, mister: want to see some clean pictures?"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Lower back pain is a broad term that applies to mild, moderate and even serious conditions. Because of the location of the pain, I have known many patients who have swapped their symptoms, their drugs and their chiropractors with each other because "that is exactly what I have."

There are many reasons for such pain. A frequent cause is injury while lifting a heavy weight or by direct force during an automobile accident or a fall. Birth deformities and diseases which change the curvature of the spine are a most significant cause of pain in this area. Scoliosis is a curvature of the spine that has many differences in severity. Kyphosis is an exaggerated curvature of the spine which, too, is responsible for chronic low back pain.

Arthritis of the spine, lumbago, sacroiliac sprains and slipped discs are some of the more serious kinds of conditions of the spine.

Lumbago is a dull, constant aching in the lower back muscles that is noted most with sudden turning of the body. When the muscles are suddenly twisted tiny blood vessels break in between the fibers and cause the muscles to go into spasm. Simple strappings, bed rest and local injection of anesthetics and ethyl chloride sprays over the muscle bring relief if only for a short while. None of these should be tried without explicit instructions of the doctor.

Sacroiliac sprains can cause severe lower back pain. A joint between the sacrum and the hip bone may be injured or may, during pregnancy, be expanded and cause persistent pain. Sciatica is an inflammation of the sciatic nerve that starts in the lower portion of the back and radiates down the back of the buttocks, the thigh and sometimes to the foot. This is an actual neuritis.

The problem of the slipped disc, which has become a modern day fashionable disease, may or may not exist in all who claim they have it. Between each of the vertebrae there is a flat disc of cartilage which acts as a cushion and prevents injury to the spine as we twist, turn and lift. Sometimes this disc is compressed and even dislocated from its normal position and is responsible for a great deal of pain in adjacent areas.

I deliberately outlined all of the many causes of lower back pain to illustrate that no one should make his own diagnosis and conclude that his condition is similar to another person's because "the pain is like mine." This can only lead to danger.

The treatment is tailored for each individual case only after X-rays and other tests pinpoint the cause. The use of braces, corsets and other orthopedic appliances, and specific drugs depends on that cause. The need for surgery is a decision that is arrived at only after the most extensive tests. Early surgery when indicated spares a great deal of disability.

Los Angeles Scientists Dig In Tar For Ancient Fossils

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Half a block off busy Wilshire Boulevard scientists are digging a hole into history.
Just behind the Los Angeles

County Museum of Art are several fenced-off pools of bubbling tar, welling up from a huge oil dome 150 feet below the surface. The bones of countless animals—prehistoric saber-tooth cats, giant sloths, dire wolves and at least one human being—were hauled from these tar pits in random excavations half a century ago.

Now a new "dig" has been started, aimed for the first time at recreating in full detail this part of the world as it existed during the Ice Age, a three-million-year epoch which ended about 10,000 years ago.

The excavation is on a site where the tar, exposed to air and dust, has congealed into a cap strong enough to hold the weight of diggers employed by the County Museum of Natural History.

As they slowly scrape their way down inch by inch, the hardened muck is hauled away in buckets, sifted and washed with solvent. When the solvent drains away, workers find the bones of hundreds of birds and animals that met death in the once-sticky goo.

These fossils are carefully cataloged by numbers showing the exact depth at which they were found. The deeper the workers dig, the farther back into earth's history they go.

In this way Dr. Theodore Downs, chief of earth sciences at the museum, hopes to open a wide window onto the past.

"Earlier excavators apparently were interested primarily in the bones of large animals—the giant California lion, the sabertooth cat, the giant ground sloth," said Downs.

"This time we are studying everything that comes out of the pit, not only large bones but microfossils, the bones of rats, birds, squirrels, to help us reconstruct the whole ecology of this area at various periods of time."

NEW FACILITIES — Attendant Nancy Bainter (right), explains the new permanent press cycle to customer, Elaine Hensley of Elsea's Tripler Park, at Porter's Coin Operated Laundry, 1175 N. Court St. The laundry has installed 36 new washers, equipped so that 16 combinations of wash speed, spin speed and water temperature may be obtained. For customer convenience, there are clearly marked settings for permanent press as well as slow wash and spin delicate fabrics.

"One Day In The Garden" by Marcia Vasilu. In rather poetic description, Miss Vasilu draws word pictures of a garden from dawn to dusk. "Drops of dew left by the night, now a thousand tiny mirrors for the sun. They spark red fires for a while." And, "A small brown lizard . . . like a thin letter S someone wrote on a stone with a brown pencil." Picture book.

"The Rocking Chair Ghost" by Mary C. Jane. Of the three houses on Pine Street, only the Cutler house was empty. People said it was haunted because they could sometimes hear a rocking chair squeak inside the house. When Jody visited his grandmother one summer, he solved the mystery of the rocking chair ghost and restored the house to its rightful owner. Grades 1-3.

"Junk Day on Juniper Street" by Lilian Moore. "Junk Day on Juniper Street" is a collection of seven short stories for the beginning reader. Some are about people, like the silly folk on Juniper Street who exchanged all their junk on clean-up day. There was nothing left for the junk man but an old rocking chair! Others are about animals, such as No-Go donkey. He would move only when and where he wished. But he became everyone's hero when he found the silver treasure. Grades 1-3.

"Sam Bottleby" by Ruth Carlsen. Sam Bottleby is a fairy godfather. He entertained Tryg and Sol when they were stranded in New York for a few days. Such an enterprising little man! At least sometimes he was small, depending on whether he had got the size formula just right. Sam took them flying over Manhattan in a hotel elevator, for an ocean ride in a Staten Island Ferry and to a Mets game where he made the ball perform dizzying maneuvers. It was all very difficult for Tryg to explain to his parents when they were reunited, for it had been his adventure. As Sam always said, "If you're going to have an adventure, make it first class. And always, always, enjoy it." Grades 4-6.

African Mineral Production Up

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Minister of Mines Carel de Wet said South Africa's mineral production will top Rands 1,500 million ($2,100 million) a year within two years if last year's production tempo is maintained.

He said mineral production in 1968 was worth a record Rands 1,351 million ($1,891.4 million) an increase of Rands 70 million ($98 million) over 1967. Gold production in 1968 also was a record — Rands 788 million ($1,103.2 million) or Rands 20 million ($28 million) more than the previous year.

Rhodes May Face Taft Bid

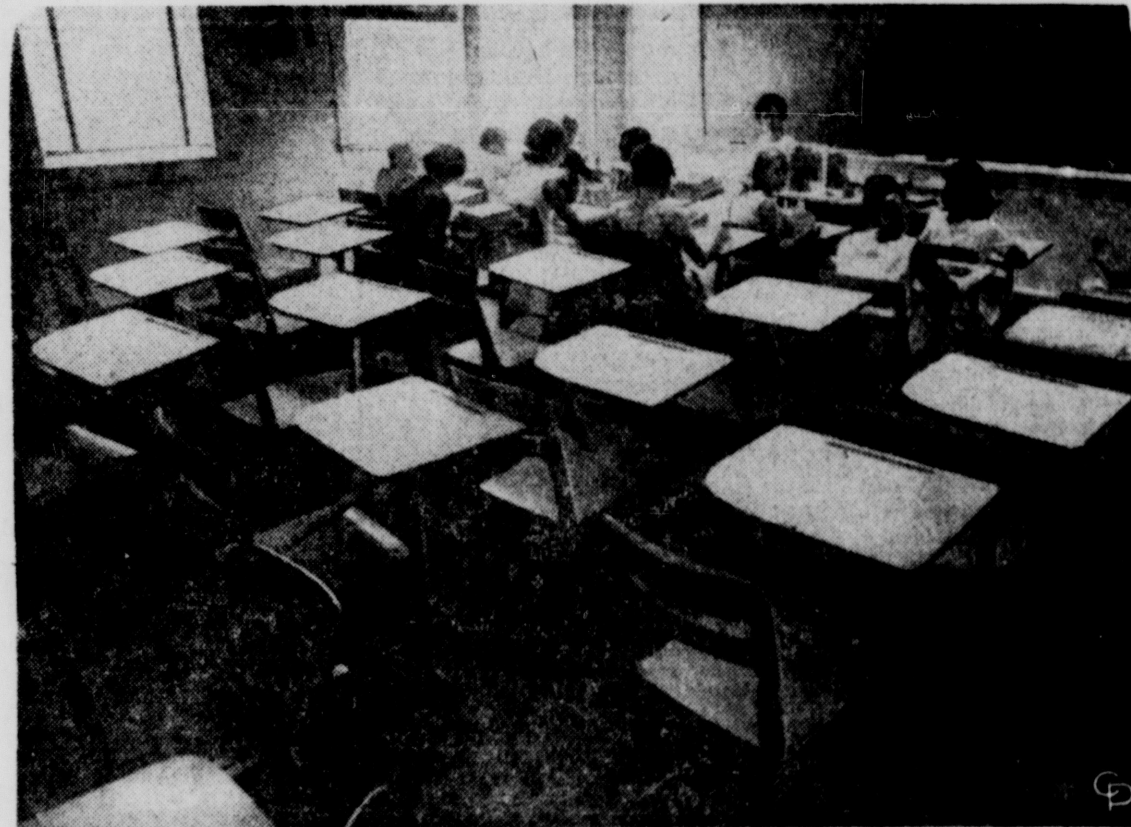

CINCINNATI (AP)—A possible Republican primary battle between Gov. James A. Rhodes and Rep. Robert Taft Jr. loomed Thursday over who would get the nomination for the U.S. Senate.

"We've had primary contests before," Taft said, "and his (Rhodes') entry into the race would not necessarily rule me out," Taft said.

"I have both the governor's and Senate races next year under serious consideration," the Ohio Republican said. In any case, Taft said, he is not interested in running again for the House from Ohio's 1st District.

"As a junior member of the House with 435 members, there are limitations on what one man can accomplish. Too, you have to run every two years to keep your seat," said the son of the former U.S. Senator, Robert A. Taft.

Rhodes has all but announced his candidacy against Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young. Rhodes cannot succeed himself twice as governor.

BOYCOTT LOUISIANA SCHOOLS—A handful of pupils attend Mrs. Zita Blackwell's history class in Gonzales Elementary School as school desegregation comes to rural sections of Louisiana. A public boycott, pickets in front of the school and bus drivers afraid to drive their routes because of threats on their lives kept students away. Only 164 of the 1,700 children enrolled attended classes.

Los Angeles Scientists Dig In Tar For Ancient Fossils

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Half a block off busy Wilshire Boulevard scientists are digging a hole into history.
Just behind the Los Angeles

County Museum of Art are several fenced-off pools of bubbling tar, welling up from a huge oil dome 150 feet below the surface. The bones of countless animals—prehistoric saber-tooth cats, giant sloths, dire wolves and at least one human being—were hauled from these tar pits in random excavations half a century ago.

Now a new "dig" has been started, aimed for the first time at recreating in full detail this part of the world as it existed during the Ice Age, a three-million-year epoch which ended about 10,000 years ago.

The excavation is on a site where the tar, exposed to air and dust, has congealed into a cap strong enough to hold the weight of diggers employed by the County Museum of Natural History.

As they slowly scrape their way down inch by inch, the hardened muck is hauled away in buckets, sifted and washed with solvent. When the solvent drains away, workers find the bones of hundreds of birds and animals that met death in the once-sticky goo.

These fossils are carefully cataloged by numbers showing the exact depth at which they were found. The deeper the workers dig, the farther back into earth's history they go.

In this way Dr. Theodore Downs, chief of earth sciences at the museum, hopes to open a wide window onto the past.

Earlier excavators apparently were interested primarily in the bones of large animals—the giant California lion, the saber-

tooth cat, the giant ground sloth," said Downs.

"This time we are studying everything that comes out of the pit, not only large bones but microfossils, the bones of rats, birds, squirrels, to help us reconstruct the whole ecology of this area at various periods of time."

MRS. GEORGE DEFENBAUGH AND MRS. BESSIE BLACK

Birthday Party Surprises 92 Year Old Twin Sisters

By MARION SINES
Herald Society Editor

Mrs. George R. Defenbaugh and Mrs. Bessie C. Black were surprised Tuesday evening when friends came to their home with a decorated cake, ice cream, flowers and all the necessities for a party.

The occasion was the 92nd birthday of the twin sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Defenbaugh and Mrs. Black make their home at 701 N. Court St. Mr. Defenbaugh will celebrate his 92nd birthday in the very near future.

Giving the party were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rose, Dr. and Mrs. V. D. Kerns, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Liston, Emerson Martin, Mrs. Sallie Brown and Mrs. Cressie Hall. The evening was spent in conversation about events of the past and occurrences of today.

The twins, Jessie and Bessie, were born in Ada, the daughters of Rufus and Carrie Karshner Warner. When they were young children the family moved to Laurelville where the sisters received their education, grew up and were married.

For forty years Mr. and Mrs.

Defenbaugh and Mrs. Black and her husband, now deceased, maintained winter homes in Florida. While the Defenbaughs now remain in Circleville the year around Mrs. Black makes her home with a niece in Florida during the cold months and returns to be with her sister each June.

The trim home with its many comfortable rocking chairs combines the past with the present. Many antiques are in evidence along with all the modern conveniences.

The activities of these two remarkable sisters denies their age. They attend church every Sunday, do their own housework and Mrs. Defenbaugh occasionally walks down town.

Friday is shopping day and Dr. Kerns takes time out from his busy schedule to take them to the grocery and wherever they wish to go for their needs since Mr. Defenbaugh no longer drives a car.

Mr. Defenbaugh taught school for many years in Columbus. He is as active as his wife and sister-in-law and keeps abreast of all current events.

Mrs. Defenbaugh said that she believes the reason for the longevity of her sister, her husband and herself is happiness. This is reflected in their personalities and in their home. They have out-lived all relatives except for some nieces and nephews but they have many friends and like people of all ages. Although kindness and consideration for each other was not mentioned it was easily seen that these qualities comprise the happiness Mrs. Defenbaugh spoke of.

Mrs. Meyers Feted With Baby Shower

Mrs. William Meyers was honored recently with a baby shower at the home of Teresa Troutman, 155 E. Union St.

Gifts were arranged in a baby bassinet decorated with yellow and green streamers. Also decorating the room was an arrangement on the coffee table in keeping with the shower theme.

Games played were won by Marla Troutman, Mrs. George Neff, Miss Rita Melvin and Miss Rosemary Melvin.

Refreshments of assorted cookies and punch were served by Mrs. George Neff and Mrs. Gladden Troutman.

Present for the shower were Mrs. Donald Meyers, Mrs. Gladden Troutman, Mrs. Thoburn Blaney, Mrs. George Neff, Mrs. George Troutman, Marla and Melea, Miss Donna Meyers.

Miss Rosemary Melvin, Miss Rita Melvin, Mrs. Robert Gauger and Susan, Mrs. Herbert Melvin, Mrs. Walter Melvin, Amy and Joyce Laefle, and Mrs. John Troutman, Amy and Lori.

Unable to attend and sending gifts were Mrs. George Troutman, Mrs. Russell Skaggs, Miss Sharon Delong, Mrs. David Troutman, Mrs. Ronald Melvin and Cheri, Mrs. Robert Melvin, Mrs. Michael Melvin and Julie, and Mrs. Stanley Melvin.

Cake left over from the party? Cut in slices, wrap in foil, freeze. Put frozen cake packets in lunch boxes and cake will be thawed by noon.

Solons Study Bill On Toys

WASHINGTON (AP) — Making consumer bills its first item of business after summer vacation, the House turned today from tires and motorcycle helmets to toys.

The toys bill would prohibit sale of such modern toys as electric ovens and miniature rockets with protruding fins if the government ruled them "dangerous due to electrical, mechanical or thermal hazards."

Known as the "Child Protection Act of 1969," the bill would add to the rules under which the Department of Health, Education and Welfare tests toys to determine whether they're dangerously explosive, flammable, radioactive, poisonous or rash-causing.

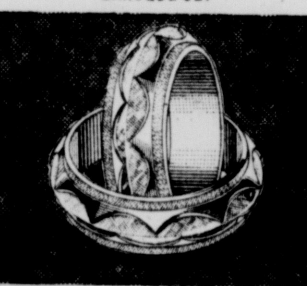

The toys bill was expected to sail through the House this afternoon and go to the Senate as easily as a tires and motorcycle helmets bill which passed 321 to 0 Wednesday.

The bill would extend to tire manufacturers the program for recalling and repairing trucks and cars with safety defects and would authorize the secretary of transportation to set safety standards for motorcycle helmets.

Birthday Party Surprises
92 Year Old Twin Sisters

By MARION SINES
Herald Society Editor

Mrs. George R. Defenbaugh and Mrs. Bessie C. Black were surprised Tuesday evening when friends came to their home with a decorated cake, ice cream, flowers and all the necessities for a party.

The occasion was the 92nd birthday of the twin sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Defenbaugh and Mrs. Black make their home at 701 N. Court St. Mr. Defenbaugh will celebrate his 92nd birthday in the very near future.

Giving the party were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rose, Dr. and Mrs. V. D. Kerns, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Liston, Emerson Martin, Mrs. Sallie Brown and Mrs. Cressie Hall. The evening was spent in conversation about events of the past and occurrences of today.

The twins, Jessie and Bessie, were born in Ada, the daughters of Rufus and Carrie Karshner Warner. When they were young children the family moved to Laurelville where the sisters received their education, grew up and were married.

For forty years Mr. and Mrs.

Defenbaugh and Mrs. Black and her husband, now deceased, maintained winter homes in Florida. While the Defenbaughs now remain in Circleville the year around Mrs. Black makes her home with a niece in Florida during the cold months and returns to be with her sister each June.

The trim home with its many comfortable rocking chairs combines the past with the present. Many antiques are in evidence along with all the modern conveniences.

The activities of these two remarkable sisters denies their age. They attend church every Sunday, do their own housework and Mrs. Defenbaugh occasionally walks down town.

Friday is shopping day and Dr. Kerns takes time out from his busy schedule to take them to the grocery and wherever they wish to go for their needs since Mr. Defenbaugh no longer drives a car.

Mr. Defenbaugh taught school for many years in Columbus. He is as active as his wife and sister-in-law and keeps abreast of all current events.

Mrs. Defenbaugh said that she believes the reason for the longevity of her sister, her husband and herself is happiness. This is reflected in their personalities and in their home. They have out-lived all relatives except for some nieces and nephews but they have many friends and like people of all ages. Although kindness and consideration for each other was not mentioned it was easily seen that these qualities comprise the happiness Mrs. Defenbaugh spoke of.

CHICAGO (AP) — Packing for a vacation trip, says the Chicago Motor Club, is a science.

Use unbreakable containers wherever possible and don't load up with film, tissues, cosmetics and other items easily obtained most anywhere.

Don't forget the prescription drugs you are likely to need, plus the prescription for your eyeglasses in case they get broken or lost.

Use plastic bags for soiled clothing and wet swimming gear.

When packing clothing, place plastic bags between garments. They will trap air and act as a cushion to keep hard creases from forming.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon team has yet to make major changes in the government's three largest urban affairs bureaucracies. Presidential appointees say programs of the Johnson administration remain fundamentally unchanged.

Nixon's men, now veterans of eight months on the job, do take credit for some remodeling of the departments of Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Health Education and Welfare.

However, "It's fair to say we haven't made much of a dent yet," said James E. Beggs, undersecretary of transportation. Plans are in the offing at Transportation, as elsewhere, for decentralization and better coordination.

Transportation Secretary John

A. Volpe, announced this week the department's first major de-centralization step: the Federal Highway Administration's regional offices and not Washington officials will handle day-to-day administration of federally-aided state and local highway safety programs.

The department's jurisdiction ranges broadly from airports and railroads to urban mass transportation and highway safety.

"Too often the modalities have operated at cross purposes," said a Volpe aide. "We're going to see, for example, that when an airport is built sufficient highway access is available."

Down the street at the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Secretary George Romney is determined to bring once-separate fiefdoms to heel. His department was formed in 1965 from a collection of inde-

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An aide to Sen. William B. Saxbe says confirmation is expected soon on the appointment of William W. Milligan of Sidney to be U.S. attorney for southern Ohio.

The Justice Department's recommendation of Milligan is to go to the White House next week for presidential confirmation, the aide said.

Milligan was selected for the post in July after at least six other Ohio Republican attorneys were considered for the post.

pendent agencies. Romney has ordered that one of these, the Federal Housing Administration merge its personnel, audit and legal sections with the rest of the department.

"The FHA will in fact be part of this department," said HUD general counsel Sherman Unger. "We may have to drag it in kicking and screaming."

Romney maintains the Democrats sinned by over-promising what the department could deliver. "We're going to scale down the appetite to what we can put on the plate," said undersecretary Richard C. Van Dusen.

Romney is devoting most of his energies to Operation Breakthrough, a plan to bring mass production techniques to the housing field.

Management experts at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare have concentrated so far on streamlining regional operations.

Department sources say Secretary Robert H. Finch hopes to transfer most decisions on program grants and supervision to his regional directors.

Police Chief Stirs Scene In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police Chief Robert Igleberger, angered by plans to investigate his department, voluntarily suspended himself from duty and stomped out of a city commission meeting Wednesday night.

But a short time later City Manager Graham Watt announced he had persuaded Igleberger to change his mind and stay on at the post.

The incident occurred after commissioners authorized the city's Human Relations Council to investigate citizens' charges of police brutality during disturbances by young gangs Monday and Tuesday nights.

Igleberger took off his badge and said that if his department was to be investigated by an outside agency, commissioners could consider him suspended.

Igleberger earlier in the meeting had told the commission that a preliminary investigation of his department showed that the police brutality charges were grossly exaggerated.

About 50 youths were arrested during the disturbances, which included scattered rock-throwing, firebombing and vandalism. On both nights the disturbances, involving mostly Negro youths, began at the Montgomery County Fair, which closed Tuesday night.

Police remained on 12-hour shifts Wednesday night, but no serious incidents were reported.

McCall Plant Again Working After Pact OK

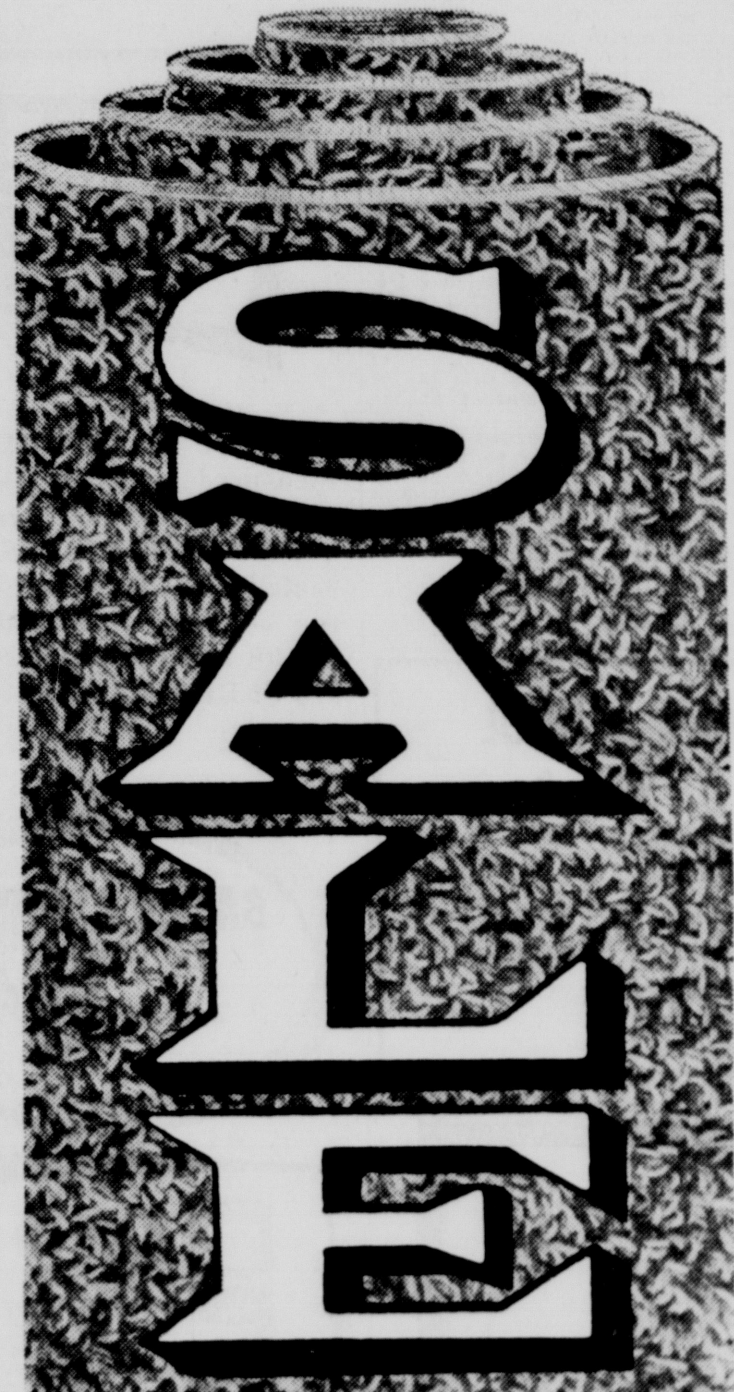

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The huge McCall's Printing Corp. plant was back in operation today after pressmen accepted a compromise 27-month contract.

Members of Local 54, Printing Pressmen and Assistants and Offset Workers Union, approved 159-69 Wednesday a company offer which provides an average $1,000 annual pay hike over the life of the contract.

The action, which ended a strike that began at midnight Sunday, came less than 12 hours after the union membership rejected a 36-month contract proposal.

The strike had idled 6,000 workers and stopped production of 70 magazines, including Newsweek, U.S. News and World Report, Reader's Digest, Ladies Home Journal and McCall's.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

He Teaches Her A Lesson

DEAR ABBY: I suppose a 29-year-old girl should know better than to get herself in a fix like this, but it's too late now.

Billy got me in a family way. (He is 42.) He said he would marry me right after harvest time. He didn't have any cash on hand so I bought myself a set of rings and started right off wearing the wedding band because I was starting to show. I paid 30 dollars down on the rings and 2 dollars a week. Then I had a miscarriage. Billy says there is no sense in marrying me now. So now I am stuck with no husband, no baby, and a set of rings. What should I do?

LULU: I think you're well rid of a man who might not have gotten around to marrying you at all. I don't know how long you've had the rings, but perhaps the jeweler will take them back if you agree to stand some loss. Under the circumstances I think you came out ahead. And by the way, next time, use yours.

DEAR ABBY: I know a man who insists that there is no such thing between a man and a woman as a "platonic" friendship. He says that given the time and opportunity they will form a physical relationship. What do you think?

MITZIE: I think anyone who would subscribe to such a theory is admitting that he is incapable of holding the interest of a member of the opposite sex without a physical relationship.

DEAR ABBY: Near where I live is a creek, which naturally is a big attraction to the adventuresome little neighborhood boys.

One day I was surprised to hear the father of one of the boys tell the whole bunch that there were monsters in the creek, and if they played near it, the monsters would catch them.

I disapproved of this "scare technique" from the start, but I just kept my mouth shut.

It's true that the boys don't play near the creek any more, but I think more harm than good was done by that monster story. Today I had a sobbing bunch of kids in my living room. They were afraid to leave because "the monsters are out there." (This was in broad daylight. I wonder what they dream about?)

I also wonder what will happen when Junior finds out that Daddy lied to him.

Personally I think it is wrong to lie to children to make them behave. Good old fashioned (and honest) discipline builds better characters in the long run.

As it says in Proverbs 22:6, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

What do you say, Abby? TRUTHFUL RANGER: DEAR ABBY: Ask the man who owns the mute parakeet if he knows whether he has a male or female bird. If he has a female, he had better forget about trying to get it to talk because only the males talk.

And by the way, Abby, do YOU know how to tell the difference between a male and female parakeet and don't tell me that it matters only to another parakeet.

PARAKEET OWNER: DEAR OWNER: The male parakeet has a bluish, brownish stripe across his beak. The female beak is clear. Ha!

More Rain For Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thundershowers dampened scattered sections of the nation from the Rockies to the Atlantic today and dumped more rain into parts of the Eastern Seaboard hit by heavy downpours Wednesday.

More than an inch of rain fell in some New Jersey communities before daybreak.

Locally heavy thunderstorms pounded portions of Texas and Arkansas late Wednesday. A severe storm at Malvern, Ark., southwest of Little Rock, tore down utility lines and toppled large trees.

More than 2½ inches of rain soaked Houston, Tex., and 1½ inches poured onto Belleville, Ill.

Generally warm and humid weather continued over the nation's midsection. Fair weather was confined to the Far West and parts of the Midwest. Cooler air streaming into the northern Rockies dropped the temperature to 37 at Butte, Mont., before dawn. In contrast, Needles, Calif., registered 94.

Library Slates Children's Hour

Weekly story-hours for the pre-school child will begin 10 a.m. Friday, at the Pickaway County District Library.

Any children of listening age are welcome to attend, and parents may remain with their youngsters in the children's department if they wish. Story hour will last about a half hour, but children who wish to leave before that time may do so.

Mrs. Connie White has constructed some clever illustrations of the story of "Wee Fishie-Wun" which will be featured at the first session. Other stories to be read are "A Tree Is Nice," Caldecott award winner for 1957 and "The Little House" by Virginia Burton. There will also be some fingerplays and simple games.

LE Boosters To Meet

The Logan Elm Booster Club will hold an organizational meeting 8 p.m. Monday in the school cafeteria.

Parents of freshmen will be honored.

Though Interstate Highways account for only one percent of the Nation's streets and roads, they probably carry 20 percent of all traffic. Vacation and pleasure drivers alone usually roll up 50 billion miles of travel a year on the expressways.

Welfare Protest Ends In Arrests At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A demonstration by 200 persons seeking increased back-to-school funds for welfare children ended Wednesday with police making 32 arrests. There was no violence.

Police said those arrested were charged with trespassing. One woman also was charged with assault and battery against a policeman. Officers said the protesters had refused to allow Cuyahoga County Commissioner Frank R. Pokorny, Hugh A. Corrigan, and Frank M. Gorman to leave the office of Welfare Director Steven A. Minter.

The demonstration began before noon when the group marched to the County Welfare Building to demand more than the $24 school clothing allowance by the welfare department. The $24 was in addition to the usual $5 allowance and was to come from proceeds of the county's one-half of 1 per cent piggyback sales tax.

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Edgar D. Whitcomb of Indiana and Gen. Jacob G. Merrill, representing the secretary of the Air Force, will participate in a homecoming celebration here Saturday for moonwalking Astronaut Neil Armstrong.

sheriffs in the desert farming town of Blythe, population 80,000 near the Arizona border. Gone are the traditional uniforms, helmets and black boots. Replaced by green double-breasted blazers, shirts, ties and slacks.

Sheriff Bernard Clark, in charge of the eight-month experiment, says the idea is "to see if there's any truth to the theory an officer's uniform impedes his work." The first reaction among police officials has been that it's a good idea for administrative types but not so good for street patrols.

Blythe citizens will be surveyed this month for their reactions.

Blythe's program is modeled after one in Dover Township, N.J., where for three years men in the ranks between chief and sergeant have worn blazers.

Clark says Blythe is the first to put all officers, including patrolmen, into casual attire.

The town is deemed a good test area as it is isolated from other towns, has a cross section of farmers and businessmen, and 25 per cent of residents are Negroes or Mexican-Americans.

Only identifying symbol on the blazers is a badge-shaped pocket crest. Officers carry guns, bullets and handcuffs under their jackets. Helmets and sticks are kept in squad cars.

Clark says he expects the experiment to how two things: "First an increase in the crime rate. Silly? No. Normally, only about 60 to 70 per cent of crimes are reported. If you establish better communication you're going to learn about more crimes. Second, an increased crime clearance rate. With better communication, the community will help solve more crimes."

Jacksonville and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., are testing blazers for ranking officers. Miami and Seattle are reported considering tests of blazer for administrative personnel.

But a spokesman for the 6,000-man Los Angeles force had this comment on the experiments: "The blazers-slacks concept may be okay for small towns, but in a big city there's too much of a chance of mistaken identity."

This theme is common among peace officers. While many favor casual dress for administrative types, they fear that patrolmen in slacks lose their identity.

Capital Outlays To Be High, But Lower Than Estimated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Businessmen now plan to spend more than $70 billion for new plant and equipment this year, vastly more than they spent last year, a new government report said Wednesday.

But the increase is less than had been projected earlier this year, indicating some success for the government's anti-inflation efforts.

A joint study by the Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission said expenditures this year will be 10.6 per cent over 1968, dwarfing the 3.9 per cent increase between 1967 and 1968.

Although the figure runs counter to the government's efforts to control inflation by curbing big spending, there was one encouraging note. The projection is lower than earlier estimates of 14 per cent in February and the 12½ per cent in May.

In addition, actual capital outlays in the second quarter were 2 per cent lower than were anticipated in May, and the study said programs for the second half of the year have been revised downward at about the same proportion.

While all of the major industry groups continue to project spending increases this year, the report said downward revisions of the earlier estimates are widespread.

In manufacturing, the largest revisions were reported by producers of motor vehicles and paper products. In nonmanufacturing, the report said all major groups have scaled down their 1969 programs, with transportation and public utilities making the largest proportional reduction.

Actual expenditures for new plants and equipment in the second quarter were at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $70.2 billion, 2 per cent higher than the first quarter. The report said businessmen now project a 3 per cent rise to $72.3 billion for the third quarter, but outlays in the fourth quarter are expected to show little change from the third.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police charged Joe Lee Rivers, 36, Columbus, with two counts of first-degree murder today in the shotgun slaying of his mother-in-law and her teen-age daughter.

Police said Rivers had gone to the home of Beatrice Ellis, 43, where his wife, Jo Ann, 20, was spending the night with her mother.

Mrs. Rivers, who told police she was upstairs at the time, said an argument developed when her husband came to the door.

According to Mrs. Rivers, three shots were fired after her husband was admitted to the home.

Mrs. Ellis, along with another daughter, Darlene, 15, were killed by shotgun blasts in the chest.

Mr. and Mrs. David Haller and family of Columbus were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Haller.

The Five Points United Methodist W.S.C.S. will meet at the church Wednesday evening at 7:30. All members are urged to attend.

Mrs. June Sheets and Mrs. D. J. Conley of Derby enjoyed a week's vacation trip to Washington D. C. where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Richardson (Darlene Conley). They saw many interesting sights including the Marine Parade. They were accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Richardson.

Several people from this community attended the Ohio State Fair at Columbus the past two weeks. It is reported bigger and better than ever.

Brent Hanawalt returned to his home Tuesday, Aug. 26 for a month's furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hanawalt.

Mrs. Mabel Reed of London spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Katherine Smith. Paul Smith has moved in with his mother, who is in failing health.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Drummond and daughter Kimberly Jo and Mr. Gene Drummond motored to Mt. Pleasant, Iowa and Cedar Falls, Iowa over the weekend and attended a Steam Engine Show. They also visited a museum, returning home Sunday evening.

plant and equipment this year, vastly more than they spent last year, a new government report said Wednesday.

But the increase is less than had been projected earlier this year, indicating some success for the government's anti-inflation efforts.

A joint study by the Commerce Department and the Securities and Exchange Commission said expenditures this year will be 10.6 per cent over 1968, dwarfing the 3.9 per cent increase between 1967 and 1968.

Although the figure runs counter to the government's efforts to control inflation by curbing big spending, there was one encouraging note. The projection is lower than earlier estimates of 14 per cent in February and the 12 1/2 per cent in May.

In addition, actual capital outlays in the second quarter were 2 per cent lower than were anticipated in May, and the study said programs for the second half of the year have been revised downward at about the same proportion.

While all of the major industry groups continue to project spending increases this year, the report said downward revisions of the earlier estimates are widespread.

In manufacturing, the largest revisions were reported by producers of motor vehicles and paper products. In nonmanufacturing, the report said all major groups have scaled down their 1969 programs, with transportation and public utilities making the largest proportional reduction.

Actual expenditures for new plants and equipment in the second quarter were at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $70.2 billion, 2 per cent higher than the first quarter. The report said businessmen now project a 3 per cent rise to $72.3 billion for the third quarter, but outlays in the fourth quarter are expected to show little change from the third.

Man Charged With Slayings In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police charged Joe Lee Rivers, 36, Columbus, with two counts of first-degree murder today in the shotgun slaying of his mother-in-law and her teen-age daughter.

Police said Rivers had gone to the home of Beatrice Ellis, 43, where his wife, Jo Ann, 20, was spending the night with her mother.

Mrs. Rivers, who told police she was upstairs at the time, said an argument developed when her husband came to the door.

According to Mrs. Rivers, three shots were fired after her husband was admitted to the home.

Mrs. Ellis, along with another daughter, Darlene, 15, were killed by shotgun blasts in the chest.

Caveman Reassures Fearful Tourist

STANTON, Mo. (AP) — A woman was standing around Meramec Caverns on U.S. 66 here and refusing to go in. "Why don't you go in?" Lester B. Dill, cave director, asked her.

"I'm afraid of caves," she confessed, "I'm waiting for my husband to come out."
"What are you afraid of?" Dill returned, "in case of cave-in you will get a refund."

Quarry Beats Brian London, Then 'Retires'

OAKLAND (AP) — Two things happened when Jerry Quarry hit Brian London with a jolting right hand to the head at 2:30 of the second round in the scheduled 10-round fight Wednesday night. London, the No. 2-rated British boxer from Blackpool, England, thudded forward on his face, finished for the night. Quarry, who at 24 already has fought twice for the heavyweight title and lost, then decided to give up boxing—so he said. "When I hit him," Quarry said, "I felt a twinge in my right hand. It's still hurting. That's when I decided to quit."

Tribe Seeks Comeback With Yanks

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have little hope of getting out of the American League's Eastern Division cellar, which they have occupied since the season began. However, they could climb up a few steps in the four-game series with the New York Yankees opening with a twilight doubleheader here Friday night.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Tony Roche is one man unwilling to go with the tide of sentiment that there can be no stopping Rod Laver in the U.S. Open tennis championships.

HOUSTON (AP) — Basketball Coach Davey Whitney will leave Texas Southern University for a similar post at Alcorn A&M College in Mississippi starting next Tuesday.

Oakland Meets Twins In Crucial AL Series

By MIKE BRYSON Associated Press Sports Writer Operation Catch Up begins a four-day run in Oakland tonight... and, if it doesn't succeed, there won't be much doubt that it will be the Minnesota Twins against Baltimore in the American League playoffs next month. The Athletics, slumping home after a miserable road swing, will have to cool off the red-hot Twins considerably in the four-game set to keep their flickering West Division title hopes alive. Boston stopped Oakland 5-2 Wednesday, after the A's won the opener of a doubleheader 7-1, while the Twins were polishing off Cleveland 7-1 for their fourth straight triumph and 10th in 12 games.

Mace, Neal Rein Winners At SD

Jim Mace brought home two winners at Scioto Downs Wednesday while Ronald (Mike) Neal, who a year ago was an athlete at Circleville High School, was in the winner's circle once. Neal reined Johnny Fisher, a 6-year-old brown trotter owned by William Thomas Neal of Circleville, to a victory in 2:08.1 in the fifth race.

Maloney, Reds Blank Cubs 2-0 To Even Series At 6-6

CINCINNATI (AP) — With "all three pitches working," the Cincinnati Reds' Jim Maloney put the league leading Chicago Cubs down 2-0 with two singles Wednesday night to end the year's series between the two clubs at six games each. "I wasn't as fast," said Maloney but my control was working. The fast ball was good, the change curve was working very well and I got the fast curve over when I needed too. "Every win is a good performance but I was glad to see the shutout. I've been fooling around too long this season," said Maloney (8-4). "Our guys made some good plays behind me," the right hander said. He mentioned a line shot hit by Don Kessinger in the eighth with one out and Randy Hundley on second on a two-base error by Alex Johnson in left field. May speared the liner jumping high in the air. "I didn't see it," said Maloney. "I just heard it. If he had hit it at me they would have carried me off the field."

Grandslam Lobell Wins Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Grandslam Lobell took the lead at the three-quarter pole and posted an easy three-length victory in the featured race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night. The 2-year-old colt returned $2.60, $2.20 and $2.20. Fighter Wave paid $2.20 and Section Chief was worth $3.40 for show. The 2-4 daily double combination of Chicklet and Annabel Oaks paid $112.80. The 2-8 quinnella returned $96.60.

Overcall To Seek 16th Straight Win

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Overall, who will be trying for his 16th straight victory, drew the outside No. 8 post position Wednesday for the $50,000 National Pacing Derby at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday night. Nevertheless, the 6-year-old unbeaten this season, was made the early 2-5 favorite.

Harmon Killebrew's two-run homer—his 39th of the season—keyed a five-run Twins' explosion in the sixth inning that helped Dave Boswell to his 15th victory in 25 decisions with a four-hitter. Tony Oliva and Leo Cardenas also singled in runs in the big inning, while Boswell's sacrifice bunt scored George Mitterwald from third for the other. Killebrew's production boosted his league-leading RBI total to 119. Ken Harrelson slammed his 27th homer for the Indians. Rookie Mike Nagy, a 21-year-old right-hander, worked himself in and out of jams in stopping Oakland for his 11th victory in 13 decisions. Gerry Moses, No. 3, and Syd O'Brien, No. 7, backed him with homers. In the opener, Oakland came from behind with a seven-run uprising in the seventh inning. Danny Cater started it off with a single and Dick Green followed with his 11th homer. Tito Francona singled in another run before pinch runner Alan Lewis tied it 4-4 by knocking the ball out of catcher Russ Gibson's glove on an apparent easy out at the plate. Sal Bando then produced the clincher with a three-run homer, his 22nd. McLain checked Kansas City on six hits for his 22nd victory against six losses, while Willie Horton banged out his 24th and 25th homers, driving in three runs. Bill Freehan also homered for the Tigers. Horton has now hit eight homers in his last seven games, including four in the four games with the Royals. Rookie Mike Fiore hit his 19th homer in the first inning and Joe Foy hit his eighth in the sixth for the only damage off McLain.

Circleville, SOC League Open Schedules Friday

The Circleville Tigers open play for the 1969 season Friday night at 8 p.m. on the Tiger Field against a strong Grove City Greyhound team. The Tiger offense operates from a pro-type alignment that can switch the slot man from the right or left side with relative ease. TIGER signal caller Tom Bowers has shown his talent at laying the ball in the receiver's hands in practices so far this year. But Tiger receivers have experienced difficulty maintaining possession of the ball. In SCOL games Friday, Hillsboro, under new head coach Dale Ambos, travels to Lebanon, Greenfield hosts London, Miami Trace hosts Springfield Northeastern and Wilmington hosts Hamilton Taft. Washington C. H. journeys to Delaware Hayes in a Saturday night game. FOLLOWING is a complete schedule of SCOL teams: Sept. 5 — Grove City at Circleville; Hillsboro at Lebanon; London at Greenfield; Springfield Northeastern at Miami Trace; Hamilton Taft at Wilmington. Sept. 6 — Washington at Delaware Hayes. Sept. 12 — Circleville at Teays Valley; Chillicothe at Washington; Blanchester at Hillsboro; Greenfield at Jackson; Pleasant View at Miami Trace; Cincinnati at Wilmington. End Jim Seymour caught 138 passes for 16 touchdowns and 2,113 yards — all records — during his three years at Notre Dame.

Local Gridder Plays At Adelbert

A former Logan Elm grid star will play a big part on the Adelbert Red Cat's defense again this year. Alan Gabriel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gabriel, Route 1, a junior at the school, is a two year letterman and is expected to see a lot of action at tackle again this season. The Red Cats were 2-6 last year. They host Allegheny College Sept. 27 for their opener.

Quarry Beats Brian London, Then 'Retires'

OAKLAND (AP) — Two things happened when Jerry Quarry hit Brian London with a jolting right hand to the head at 2:30 of the second round in the scheduled 10-round fight Wednesday night.

London, the No. 2-rated British boxer from Blackpool, England, thudded forward on his face, finished for the night.

Quarry, who at 24 already has fought twice for the heavyweight title and lost, then decided to give up boxing—so he said.

"When I hit him," Quarry said, "I felt a twinge in my right hand. It's still hurting. That's when I decided to quit." The hand, once broken, has troubled him throughout his career, Quarry said.

Quarry had called it quits after a loss to Joe Frazier in a title bout but then said he would quit after the London fight. He also has said he wanted to fight Frazier again before retiring.

After 15 minutes after he declared flatly, "this is it," the Bellflower, Calif., slugger was reminding newsmen that "I'm only 24. I know I can fight. If I just have to, I can come back to it."

London, 35, stung Quarry several times in the first round with left jabs as Quarry took it easy.

But in a weird second round, Quarry came back like a tiger, jarring London with left hooks, one of them folding London's knees as Quarry counter-punched with his back to the ropes.

London sank to the canvas and the referee made him take an eight count as the bell rang. London was sent to his corner but was pushed out again as officials decided a minute was left in the round.

Tribe Seeks Comeback With Yanks

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have little hope of getting out of the American League's Eastern Division cellar, which they have occupied since the season began. However, they could climb up a few steps in the four-game series with the New York Yankees opening with a twilight doubleheader here Friday night.

The Indians sank deeper into the cellar Wednesday by losing to the Minnesota Twins, 7-1, while the Yankees were idle. They are now 14 games behind New York, the team immediately ahead of them in the standings.

The loss to the Twins was the eighth straight for the Indians and No. 12 for Steve Hargan against five victories.

Hargan, who underwent elbow surgery during the offseason, blanked the Twins for five innings. But he apparently tired and was replaced in the sixth after Rod Carew's double, a single by Tony Oliva and Harmon Killebrew's 39th homer of the season produced three runs. The Twins scored two more runs off Juan Pizarro before the inning was over.

The Twins got their other two runs in the eighth inning off rookie Phil Hennigan, who joined the Indians Tuesday.

Dave Boswell, who won his 15th game, shut out the Indians on three hits through the first six innings, but then Ken Harrelson hit his 27th homer in the seventh to give the Tribe its only run.

Operation Catch Up begins a four-day run in Oakland tonight... and, if it doesn't succeed, there won't be much doubt that it will be the Minnesota Twins against Baltimore in the American League playoffs next month.

The Athletics, slumping home after a miserable road swing, will have to cool off the red-hot Twins considerably in the four-game set to keep their flickering West Division title hopes alive.

Boston stopped Oakland 5-2 Wednesday, after the A's won the opener of a doubleheader 7-1, while the Twins were polishing off Cleveland 7-1 for their fourth straight triumph and 10th in 12 games.

That boosted the Twins lead to 6 1/2 games over Oakland, which was only two games off the pace a little more than a week ago. But, while the Twins were enjoying their string of prosperity, Oakland dropped seven of 10 games on the road trip.

Noting that Minnesota is six games up on the A's in the loss column, Manager Billy Martin said, "If we have that same margin when we leave Oakland Sunday, they'll be hurting."

Twins President Cal Griffith was even more confident: "If the Twins can win two of four in Oakland, it will Katy bar the door for us the rest of the way."

Martin's only big concern during the Big Series is Rod Carew, who will miss the last three games because of a weekend military obligation.

Carew, who just rejoined the team after two weeks of summer training camp, is leading the league with a .351 average.

Detroit and Denny McLain stopped Kansas City 4-2 in Wednesday's only other scheduled AL activity.

Harmon Killebrew's two-run homer—his 39th of the season—keyed a five-run Twins' explosion in the sixth inning that helped Dave Boswell to his 15th victory in 25 decisions with a four-hitter.

Tony Oliva and Leo Cardenas also singled in runs in the big inning, while Boswell's sacrifice bunt scored George Mitterwald from third for the other.

Killebrew's production boosted his league-leading RBI total to 119.

Ken Harrelson slammed his 27th homer for the Indians.

Rookie Mike Nagy, a 21-year-old right-hander, worked himself in and out of jams in stopping Oakland for his 11th victory in 13 decisions.

Gerry Moses, No. 3, and Syd O'Brien, No. 7, backed him with homers.

In the opener, Oakland came from behind with a seven-run uprising in the seventh inning. Danny Cater started it off with a single and Dick Green followed with his 11th homer.

Tito Francona singled in another run before pinch runner Alan Lewis tied it 4-4 by knocking the ball out of catcher Russ Gibson's glove on an apparent easy out at the plate. Sal Bando then produced the clincher with a three-run homer, his 22nd.

McLain checked Kansas City on six hits for his 22nd victory against six losses, while Willie Horton banged out his 24th and 25th homers, driving in three runs. Bill Freehan also homered for the Tigers.

Horton has now hit eight homers in his last seven games, including four in the four games with the Royals.

Rookie Mike Fiore hit his 10th homer in the first inning and Joe Foy hit his eighth in the sixth for the only damage off McLain.

The Circleville Tigers open play for the 1969 season Friday night at 8 p.m. on the Tiger Field against a strong Grove City Greyhound team.

Grove City Coach Chuck Brockmeyer is optimistic about his team's chances to improve on their last season's 8-2 record. He sports a fast team with 14 veterans of the 56 players who tried out for the squad.

A reportedly weak backfield is headed by 197 pound tailback, Bob Hitchens. The line averages 175 pounds.

A running offense appears to be the Greyhound's chief weapon. Grove City's quarterback, Tim Cox, was a halfback last year and lacks experience throwing the ball.

The Tigers will counter with a hard-nose defense paced by a tough mid-section.

The defensive backfield has worked on the passing game in practice and should Grove City abandon game plans and take to the air the Tigers will be ready.

The Tiger offense, impotent with just a ground game, will have to do some aerial magic of their own in an effort to relieve some of the pressure from the running backs.

The Tigers have worked extensively on passing drills, but have failed to effectively use them in pre-season scrimmages.

The Tiger offense operates from a pro-type alignment that can switch the slot man from the right or left side with relative ease.

Mace, Neal Rein Winners At SD

Jim Mace brought home two winners at Scioto Downs Wednesday while Ronald (Mike) Neal, who a year ago was an athlete at Circleville High School, was in the winner's circle once.

Neal reined Johnny Fisher, a 6-year-old brown trotter owned by William Thomas Neal of Circleville, to a victory in 2:08.1 in the fifth race.

It marked the second straight win at Scioto for Neal and Johnny Fisher. He returned $14.80, $8.80 and $6.40.

Mace won the first half of the daily double with Chicklet. The payoff at the mutual window was $25.20, $11.80 and $9.60. Chicklet teamed with Annabel Oaks in the second race for a $112.80 double payoff.

Mace was in the sulky again when Toboso Raider paced a mile in 2:03.4 to win the eighth race. Return at the mutual window was $4.20, $3.20 and $2.60.

Maloney, Reds Blank Cubs 2-0 To Even Series At 6-6

CINCINNATI (AP) — With "all three pitches working," the Cincinnati Reds' Jim Maloney put, the league leading Chicago Cubs down 2-0 with two singles Wednesday night to end the year's series between the two clubs at six games each.

"I wasn't as fast," said Maloney but my control was working. The fast ball was good, the change curve was working very well and I got the fast curve over when I needed too.

"Every win is a good performance but I was glad to see the shutout. I've been fooling around

Sayers' Knee Worries Bears

CHICAGO (AP) — Beyond the realm of the mini-skirt, the most studied knee around probably belongs to sensational Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears.

MAC Athletic Directors To Ponder Loop Makeup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mid-American Conference athletic directors will ponder the league's future makeup until November, when they will meet again and submit individual recommendations.

This decision came out of a meeting Wednesday between the directors and Commissioner Bob James.

Facing the athletic chiefs is the question of whether to operate with six or seven teams or to expand the league, possibly to its 10-team constitutional limit.

The question came to a head after the conference slapped Marshall University with an indefinite suspension for recruitment irregularities. That reduced the loop to six teams.

At the November meeting, the athletic directors are expected to compile a final report for submission to the conference's faculty board in mid-December. The faculty board's findings then will be submitted to the Council of Presidents, which must endorse any changes in conference makeup.

A special meeting of the presidents could be called in December, or the matter could be held over until the council's regular January session, James said.

In another matter, the athletic directors decided on a means of reviewing the league's agreement with the Southern Conference to enter its championship football team in the Tangerine Bowl.

The athletic director of the school fielding the championship team will submit a report in January on the operation of the pact. A report then will be prepared for the Council of Presidents, recommending whether the pact should be continued.

Bengals Reclaim 4 On Waivers; Coslet Activated

CINCINNATI (AP) — As expected Wednesday, the Cincinnati Bengals reclaimed four players put on waivers, including Tommie Smith, Olympic sprinter.

None were picked up by other American Football League teams, and three were retained on the taxi squad. They are Smith, kicker Mike Clemons and defensive back John Guillory.

Tight end Bruce Coslet was reactivated for the regular team.

The Bengals waived defensive back Mark Stewart Wednesday and guard Pat Talburt, rookie obtained from Kansas City Monday, did not pass his physical. The team now is one below the limit of 44 players. They must trim to 40 by Monday.

Cubans Puffed Up

MIAMI (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro is so proud of his Cuban amateur baseball team's 2-1 victory over America last month that Havana Radio said the government is bringing out a commemorative stamp — complete with linescores.

State at one of the tackles.

Replacing Seals will be a 1968 reserve Doug Kriewald or Randy Johnson, switching from tackle. Other interior linemen are 10-year veteran Bob Wetoska, coaxed out of retirement recently; regular guard Jim Cadile, and Bob Picken.

Jack Concannon has won the quarterback job over Virgil Carter and any hope for much-needed improvement in a passing game must come from wide receivers Dick Gordon and Bob Wallace, who between them caught only 48 passes last season.

Joining Sayers as running backs are Brian Piccolo, Ronnie Bull, Mike Hull and rookie, Ross Montgomery of Texas Christian.

Defense, hinged around Dick Butkus, demolishing middle linebacker, again may be the name of the game for the Bears.

The defensive line includes Frank Cornish, dieted down 50 pounds to an agile 283, and Dick Evey at tackles; and Ed O'Bradovich, Marty Amsler and, the hottest summer candidate, Willie Holman, at ends.

Doug Buffone and taxi squad graduate Dan Pride will flank Butkus as outside linebackers and Bennie McRae, Roosevelt Taylor and Aoe Taylor are set as defensive backs.

Replacing strong safety, Richie Pettibon, who was traded to the Los Angeles Rams, still is a problem with chief contenders being Major Hazelton and Tom Greenlee.

Chicago Bears At A Glance
1968 finish—Second in Central Division.
1969 record—7-7.
Probable 1969 finish—Second in Central Division.

Team's strong points—Game-breaking threat of Gale Sayers, if mending knee holds up; solid defense; much better running than passing.

Team's weaknesses—Offensive line, sapped by military draft and retirement guard George Seals; dearth of good receivers.

Best rookies—Offensive tackle Rufus Mayes, No. 1 draft pick from Ohio State; Running back Ross Montgomery, 220-pounder from Texas Christian; and split end Ron Copeland, UCLA.

Governors' Conference in executive session Tuesday. There may be some other changes, too.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler has cautioned against further speculation until the President has final discussions with the Cabinet on the plan.

Announcement on the cutback could come today or "sometime this week," Ziegler said.

One official of Cabinet rank, presidential counselor Arthur Burns, returned from the governors' meeting in Colorado Springs, Colo., saying he strongly opposed any delay until April 1 in the withdrawal of federal aid funds for state projects such as highway building. Burns said he thinks federal and federally funded projects should be cut at the same time—immediately.

Attend Bar Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — About 600 attorneys and judges will attend the semi-annual meeting of the Ohio State Bar Association here Friday and Saturday.

The governors adjourned their 61st annual conference Wednesday with no discussion of the construction issue in formal session.

There was plenty of corridor talk, but a threatened Democratic move to put the governors on record in opposition to the cutback never materialized.

As originally conceived, the cutback, expected to be announced Friday, was said to involve an immediate 75 per cent reduction in new federal construction. Federally aided projects, the item of primary interest to the states, would be curtailed by the same percentage next April 1.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew gave the conference a preview of the plan at a closed session Tuesday. Some Democrats said that move appeared designed to stifle criticism.

Democratic Gov. Robert E. McNair of South Carolina said Agnew's briefing depicted the projected cut as a step to ease inflation and thus made it difficult, if not impossible, for politicians who have been complaining about prices to dissent.

"It's grossly unfair for people to be complaining and screaming about inflation and then when the President does something to complain about it," said Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, a Democrat.

Republicans were virtually unanimous in saying they would support Nixon although they said they had misgivings about the cutback. Colorado Gov. John A. Love, newly elected chairman of the conference, said construction stoppage "could be distasteful," but added it indicates an appropriate administration move to adjust spending priorities.

One Democrat, Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland, said he anticipates that governors will rush to get new federal aid construction under way in time to be at any April 1 cutoff. The Nixon plan would affect road building, federally aided schools and hospitals and other projects.

Then the couple set out on foot toward the Dead Sea. After two hours of walking, Pike complained of leg pains and told his wife to go on without him.

"I suggested that he take a nap and when he got his strength to follow me," she said. "I left him atop a small mountain about six or seven miles west of the Dead Sea."

Two hundred soldiers and troops began the search for Pike Tuesday on foot and in helicopters and light planes. First they found the car, with Pike's wallet and passport in it. Later they found a map in a dry river bed about a mile east of the car, and Mrs. Pike said her husband had been carrying it before they were separated.
